John:

Please send the CD to Jack Hwang, EPA Region 3. At this point I would just be passing it on the Jack. His mailing address is below:

Jack Hwang, 3LCD50
 US EPA Region III
 1650 Arch Street
 Philadelphia, PA 19103

Thanks for your participation in the Workshop.

Sorry for the delay, but I have been upgrading the presentation daily. I will send a CD by overnight delivery to Christopher Brown. Christopher can you please send me your address. The PowerPoint is too big to email. Please note I am going on vacation today, but will be do some addition work on the presentation on the airplane tonight. So what I send you may not be a final. Christopher, please cc Betsy Orr on your response as she will be sending it out for me.

Thanks,

John,

I don't think that I have received the presentation as of yet. I am going on vacation next week. Please send your presentation to Christopher Brown with DNREC (copied on this email).

Bio:

John Slowikowski has worked in the environmental testing industry for over 20 years. His entire career has been environmentally oriented, having previously worked for the Chesapeake Bay Foundation, Maryland Department of the Environment and National Park Service. His work experience includes 10 years of education, monitoring and research work involving the Chesapeake Bay and its tributaries. This experience includes a wide variety of cooperative projects with the EPA, U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service and University of Maryland. In the public sector, he has served as a program coordinator for the Maryland Department of the Environment (MDE), in the industrial discharge program, and has worked for the National Park Service as an interpretative ranger. In the private sector, he served for 5 years as the general manager of a full service environmental laboratory owned by the largest testing and inspection company in the world. He joined Phase Separation Science as Vice President in 1995.

Presentation Description:

This presentation will bring you into the world of the laboratory visually and verbally to help you gain an understanding of how samples are handled, the challenges faced by the laboratory, and how to get what you want and need. Topics will include representative sampling –what you need know about how the lab handles samples so you make the correct data assumptions, field conditions that impact analytical outcomes, issues labs routinely see in sample receiving, composite samples – strategies/considerations, getting the project particulars right the first time (EDDs, detection limits, correct analyte lists, data packages etc), laboratory quality control considerations and more...

John,

Sorry we have not had the chance to catch up on the presentation. Are you available to discuss this week sometime? Wednesday morning and anytime Thursday or Friday will work for me.

I see you were copied on this email (below) as well, so hopefully you are in the process of registering. I did need to get a few things from you regarding the presentation.

- Title of the presentation
- A brief bio of yourself (to be read during your introduction)
- A one paragraph description of the presentation

As the EPA has indicated, all non-State/non-EPA presenters must still register for the workshop, make their own hotel reservation, and arrange for their meals. I have also been told that September 6th is the absolute deadline for registration.

As a reminder, if you were interested in having a vendor exhibition and poster session please contact Karen (below). She is about to finalize the list of exhibitors.
